(History compiled by Patrick Judge & Curt Synness)

Over its history, this race has been referred to by an assortment of names:

“City Cross Country Race / Meet”

“Lamborn Hill Run”

“Summer Road Race”

“Fresno Frenzy”

But most often, it was referred to simply as the “August Road Race.”

In 2008, an accent was added to the title, giving it a bit more color as:

"Augúst Road Race" (“au-gúst - adj. marked by majestic dignity or grandeur” - Webster).

The most significant course change came in 1972, when it was moved from “Lamborn Hill” to its present location at Head Lane.

Trivia

- Steve Simpson not only has the record, but an amazing 9 open titles.
- A female division was added to the race in 1972.
- The Roberts family had three individual winners: Dave Sr., Tom, and Joe
- Emily Nay has five open titles, and won her first at age 12.
